

After the so-called coup attempt of July 2016 in Turkey, there has been a tremendous rise of human rights violations. Thousands of people have fled abroad as asylum seekers due to a massive witch-hunt launched by Turkish government against opposition of all kinds. Many died on the way.

Pictured here is Esma Uludag, a 35-year old woman who managed to escape from Turkey to Greece along with her three children. Uludag passed away of cerebral bleeding amid financial difficulties just 6 months after they took refuge in Athens.
